

TERMS OF USE OF PRODUCTS, MATERIALS AND SERVICES RELATED TO THEM (LICENCE)

General information

The products, materials and services related to them are produced, and their copyright, database protection and other immaterial rights are owned by the Geological Survey of Finland (hereinafter GTK, licensor) or its contract partners. User refers to a natural or legal person who makes use of the material covered by this licence and a service related to the material.

If there is a fee on the material product, the licence becomes valid after the payment has been made in accordance with the agreement.

When using the material, the original source and the revision year of the material must be mentioned in the service that uses the material or a part of it:

[The individualized name of the product/data] © Geological Survey of Finland [year]

or mention about modification of the material:

[The individualized name of the product/data], modified data © Geological Survey of Finland [year]

The material is to be marked as either a) presented as is or b) modified.

The user accepts the terms of this licence by receiving the material or using the service.

Terms of the licence

If no other terms or conditions for the use of materials have been set in writing or if no other terms or conditions have been set in the service related to the material or during the distribution of the material, the right of use will be granted for the material with the following terms and conditions:

Rights of use

This licence grants the user a global, irrevocable parallel limited right of use. According to the terms of the licence, the material or service specified in the title can be used for the following personal purposes or for internal use within an organisation:

- copying and distribution within an organisation
- modifying and utilisation
- inserting into other products and
- using as a part of a software application or service.

The interface service and similar services provided by GTK and included in this licence may be linked to other internal services of a company.

The right of use is free of charge or subject to a fee according to a separate agreement and the licence is valid for 10 years from downloading or receiving the material if the term of validity has not been separately agreed upon. The right of use is not transferrable and it is not exclusive.

Allowed use

Use of the material that includes editing, changing, duplicating, copying, printing, scanning, transferring or distributing the material (e.g. reclassification, using the material as the basis for analyses, or in other derivative forms) is allowed within an organisation. Publication on an intranet is also considered internal use. The source of the material must always be mentioned when presenting it. Everything other than internal use, including the use of material as is or as a part of the user's own products such as maps, publications, books, brochures, advertisements, multimedia or any other kind of use without the advance permission of GTK is prohibited. In documents created for authorities and in scientific publications and teaching materials, it is allowed to use images created from the material without separate permission. As regards to using the material on behalf of a third party as a part of, for example, a commission carried out as a partner or subcontractor, separate permission must be acquired from GTK.

Duties and responsibilities of the user

When using the material or products based on it, the user must:

- mention GTK's rights to the material listed in the section "General information"
- provide a copy of this licence or a link to it.

This licence does not create a cooperation or business relationship between the user and GTK. The terms of this licence do not allow the user to state in conjunction with the use of material that GTK would support or recommend such use.

It is the user's responsibility to follow these terms of use and the user's obligation to protect the material from use that violates these terms. If these terms are neglected or violated, GTK is entitled to receive compensation for damages.

Duties and responsibilities of GTK

GTK ensures that it has the right to grant the licence.

The material is licensed as is and GTK shall not be held responsible for any errors in the material or service. GTK shall be free from liability for direct or consequential damages arising from by the use of the material or service. GTK disclaims any warranty for the validity or up to date status of the material.

GTK is not obligated to ensure the continuous availability of the data, nor to announce in advance the interruption or cessation of availability. The license does not warrant product or material updates during the license period.

Jurisdiction

Finnish law shall apply to this licence.

Changes to this licence

GTK may at any time change the licence terms of the distributed materials or apply a different licence to a material. The terms of this licence shall, however, still apply to such materials that have been taken into use prior to the change of the licence.
